

Senovo is an early-stage B2B SaaS-only venture capital fund. As European first mover, we invest since 2013 into a new generation of B2B software companies which enable the digitalization of medium and large enterprises. Our focus is primarily on supporting teams working in the areas of process optimization, industry 4.0 and data-enabled solutions.

We make a handful of high conviction commitments per year to founders who aim to re-define categories. In our eyes, great companies are built on trust, innovation and pushing boundaries.

Specialization is at the core of what we do and enables us to make a real impact. We bring a deep understanding of B2B operations and enjoy supporting on go-to-market, scaling your organization or working on budgets and benchmarks.

We join the journey after a company has first revenues in a late Seed or Series A round.

Our investment team always needs the support of bright minds. Are you passionate about startups and new technologies? Do you want to learn more about Venture Capital and B2B SaaS through first-hand experience? Are you ready to take on responsibility and work on challenging tasks? Do you want to be part of a fun and experienced team?

Then you have just found the perfect job for you! We are currently looking for someone in the following position:
